On Windows 10 the Radeon.Cuesta, Tamaulipas Cuesta is a village in the Mexican state of Tamaulipas, located in the municipality of Valle del Carmen. It has a population of around 130 people (2007). The town is located on a 2.2 kilometer long strip of land between the state of Matamoros to the north and the Gulf of Mexico to the south. It borders the state of Coahuila to the east. It is bordered by Piste to the west. The economy of Cuesta is based mainly on agriculture (corn, sorghum, sugar cane, and beef cattle) and livestock (cows and chickens). The community is served by a community clinic with two doctors, one nurse, two dentists, and a vet. References External links Category:Villages in Tamaulipas Category:Valle del CarmenThe federal government has acquired surface-to-air missiles in a deal apparently worth millions of dollars to Saudi Arabia. The weaponry includes surface-to-air missile defence systems. It is reportedly part of a plan to defend Saudi Arabia against Iranian weapons. Both Saudi Arabia and Tehran are currently locked in a brutal war of proxy wars. Canada and Saudi Arabia have been longstanding allies and arms partners, the announcement of the weapons acquisition comes shortly after Canadian Prime Minister Justin Trudeau met Saudi King Salman bin Abdulaziz Al Saud in Riyadh. The United States' Department of Defence has confirmed that it will be supplying the Saudi military with the surface-to-air missiles. (If that wasn't clear enough, Defence Minister Harjit Sajjan, a Sikh, flew in, as the two leaders struck a deal in a press conference.) "Our commitment to the security of the Kingdom is long-standing," Defence Minister Mr. Sajjan said. The defence minister made it clear that this is part of a larger plan to protect Saudi Arabia against Iranian-backed Houthi rebels in Yemen. Iran has been meddling
